THE 1954 "NUGGET"

The annual yearbook of the students of Colorado College which is located in Colorado Springs, Colorado. This, the fifty-fifth volume of the Nugget, is published by the Associated Students of Colorado College.

In the 1954 NUGGET, we have sought to portray the life of our campus as it is throughout the school year, so that in years to come, we may not forget the joys, friendships, hopes, and inspirations, and the purpose of our college days.

"Know that yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream.
Let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing."
—The Prophet Gibran

Dedication

The editors and staff of the 1954 Nugget respectfully dedicate this annual to Dr. Ross. Although his years as a professor have been short in number, his wisdom and abiding faith more than seem long. Since beginning his professorial career at C.C. in 1951, he has dedicated his years to teaching and guiding us. His congeniality, sense of humor, spirit of cooperation, and keen interest in people have helped to make our years here more profitable and enjoyable.

SENIOR CLASS

We, the Senior Class of 1954, will to you, our successors, the many and varied talents of which we are possessed. In hope that you may use them in the wholehearted and enthusiastic manner that characterized us, we leave you the exuberant party spirit of one faction and the determined brains of the other. But united we became; first, in the gaiety of the Senior Picnic and then in the wonderful culmination of graduation.

SOPHOMORES

The Tigers of the sophomore class, led by President Rule Olson and commissioners Mort Forster and Sue Stearman, gained their prestige this year by winning the annual freshman-sophomore fight. For the first time in many years the flag remained intact on top of the greased pole, and the sophomores, dirty but happy, emerged victorious.

Sitting: Bill Fritz, Leo Oyler, Frank Florey, Anne Pinkney.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF COLORADO COLLEGE

The A. S. C. C. is the principal student organization on campus. It is composed of the entire student body and operates under its own constitution as granted by the college president and the Board of Trustees. It is the governing body which supervises student life and works in cooperation with students, faculty, and administration.

Pat Reeves, Secretary; Georgianna Shaw, President; Marsha Manning, Vice President; Gwen Jude, Treasurer.

GEORGIANNA SHAW
President

Associated Women Students

A. W. S., headed by Georgiana Shaw, unifies all activities for women on campus and has sponsored such things as Carnival Night, where students have a chance to learn about organizations on campus, Golddiggers Ball, services and the A.W.S. bookstore.

Quadrangle Association

Gail Lund and the Q. A. board have done an outstanding job in self-government, proving how the honor code can eventually be used in all dorms and in coordinating with the student government. Every girl is a member of Q. A., and each hall is governed by a hall council whose president is a representative on Q. A. judiciary board.

In Session

Interfraternity Council

Sitting: Dick Hayes, Kay Freyschlag, faculty advisor, Terry Burk, president, and Kipp Herreid.

Inter-Fraternity Council on campus is composed of two members from each fraternity, the president and one other member. It deals with all inter-fraternity relations such as rush, sports events, and social functions. This year it sponsored the Aspen Winter Carnival.

Winter Carnival

The Winter Carnival was held for the first time at Aspen between semesters. In spite of poor weather conditions many ski enthusiasts and those who just enjoy three days in the out-of-doors could be seen on the slopes, riding up and down the chair lift and having fun in the Red Onion and Golden Horn. Suzan Beer reigned as carnival queen, and John Buzia as "party boy."

PAN HELLENIC

Pan Hellenic Council

Pan-Hell with Margie Epler as president meets twice a week. It is the governing body of all sororities on campus and works in coordination with the National Pan Hellenic Association.

Pan-Hell Dance

The Pan-Hell Dance—where once a year the professors perform for the student body outside the classroom. With Doc Stabler as the Auctioneer, the faculty talent was far from undersold. Never to be forgotten was the sight of Dean Burkle running across the campus with a screaming coed in his "little red wagon."

Honor Council

The Honor Council is composed of 12 members whose primary functions are to administer the honor system, hear all cases arising from the violation of the honor system, inform all freshmen of the system during Freshman Week, and assure a permanent form of student government.

The Red Lantern is composed of twelve enthusiastic and outstanding Senior men, who are elected on past achievements and act as a service club in taking roll and acting as monitors at Chapel. They terrorize Freshmen men during Freshman hazing with haircuts and whitewash.

Lennox House Board

Standing: Mort Forester, Dick Hayes, Dean Reid, Sally Wass.

The Lennox House Board, a representative of the National Student Union, is composed of six students and six faculty members. It sponsors and sets up hours at Lennox, bridge tournaments, and a Christmas party. The Lennox Enthusiasm Committee headed by Vickie Hahn has done a fine job in helping the union become an active organization on campus.

The Color Guard

Rifle Team

Firing in Cossit Gymnasium, the rifle team played host to Colorado University, West Texas State and Trinidad College in shoulder to shoulder matches. Postal matches were held with more than thirty other colleges throughout the United States.

The Band

Army ROTC established at Colorado College at the start of the 1952-1953 school year entered its second year of Cadet training in the branch general program.

Students who successfully complete the four year ROTC course may be commissioned in any one of the fifteen arms or services.

This years unit is organized into three drill companies under the direction of Herbert B. Heyer, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, and an ROTC band directed by Mr. Earl Juhas.

The military ball, an all school ROTC function, held at the Broodmoor was highlighted by the installation of the Cadet Corps favorite young lady as an Honorary Cadet Colonel.

The annual inspection of the unit by army officers late in April climaxed the years training.

The final review honored President Gill who along with other dignitaries, presented awards to outstanding Cadets.

Language

German

The German Club with Kathy Smith as president meets about once a month and is open to all of those interested in the language, literature, civilization, and folk songs of Germany. It offers a good chance to become acquainted with foreign students, see films, and hear discussions and music.

Women's

W. A. A.

The Women's Athletic Association sponsors intramural and inter-scholastic tournaments in tennis, volleyball, swimming, bowling, basketball, and softball. Class letters are awarded for the accumulation of W.A.A. participation points. The Association sponsors playdays with the other Colorado schools, at which events girls from the schools may become acquainted.

Athletic

Wakuta

Wakuta, the honorary women's athletic association, works closely with W.A.A. by assisting them in refereeing and umpiring the various sport competitions held during the academic year. New members are tapped in the spring and are honored, along with the graduating seniors, by the annual picnic.

C. C. VS. MONTANA STATE

Montana State won its first game from CC since 1946. The CC team was plagued by fumbles which halted the Tigers' drives deep into Montana State territory. For the Tigers, Lowell Slocum, Roger Bildstein, and Bob Deyo stood out offensively while Bud Green, Frank Derango and Ken Baird showed up well on the line.

C. C. VS. W. STATE

Old man time and a stout CC line halted a desperate Western State drive in the last seconds of the fourth quarter enabling the Tigers to gain a 7-7 tie with the favored Mountaineers on Washburn Field. Standouts for the Tigers included Lowell Slocum, Ken Baird, and Art Elder.

TIGERS VS. MINES

The C.C. Tigers finished the season with a tie; played Colorado Mines to a 26-26 deadlock. Lowell Slocum, playing his last game for the Tigers, took the Miners' kickoff and ran 70 yards before fumbling on the 10. Roger Bildstein took the ball over for the final touchdown.

C. C. VS. D. U.

Denver University's slow starting Pioneers overcame a first period Colorado College two touchdown lead to take a hard-fought 19-13 battle. Slocum scored both of the CC touchdowns.

C. C. VS. OMAHA U.

The Tigers had their first win of the season in a rough and tough battle. Omaha U. led at the half 6-0. Then Colorado College exploded for four second-half touchdowns to gain a decisive 26-6 victory. Slocum scored three of the CC touchdowns and Knight got one from a pass from Engleson.

COLORADO COLLEGE 1953 TEAM

. . . Six returning lettermen . . .nine rookies. The Black and Gold started the season with wins over Colorado A. & M. 4-2, and Denver U. 3-1. Then the roof fell in when they traveled to C.U. where they took a 7-0 beating. Mines took a 4-0 win which made the season a two win, two loss proposition. The team then traveled to Denver and met a much improved team shown by the outcome 0-0. Colorado A. & M. in the second game forfeited to the Tigers. The CC team played one of its best games of the season when they played C. U. again. Even though CC came out on the short end of the 3-2 score, it was a hard fought and well played game. The outstanding players were: Bud Krause, Mort Forster, John Sibilia, and John Taylor who took over the goalie position at mid-season. The only thing the Tigers' soccer team lacked was a few fans to give them that needed spirit. The CC team will be well worth watching next year.

Absent: P. Schoelzel, D. Walker.

Colorado College's wax-artists started the 1953-54 season full of optimism. When the lengthy snow season was completed, however, the Tigers found that injuries and ineligibilities had cut the team to the point where about all that was gained was experience.

Sparked by the near-sensational skiing of freshman Bill Fite of Seattle, Wash., the team competed in the Denver University Invitational at Winter Park and then in the CC-Western State Invitational at Gunnison. Skiing against the top skiers of the nation, CC performed respectably but finished always at the bottom of the heap as a team.

Outstanding single performance was a seventh place in the slalom race at Winter Park, marking the first time a CC skier had finished in the top ten among the 40 skiers usually entered in these events.

In the final meet of the year at Climax all of CC's four regulars—Fite, Barbour, Spiegel, and Holzl—earned letters by finishing near the top of the pack. Fite won the cross country and finished second in the slalom and the giant slalom.

Skiing for the team the past year were, in addition to the four lettermen, P. Roberts, D. Walker, B. Porter, and T. Schoelzel.

ORGANIZATIONS

SORORITIES

The four national sororities on campus have given a lot to both civic and campus activities this past year. All during the year the chapters have given their time to worthy organizations such as the Day Nursery, Child Day Care Center and both "Y" groups in town. Several times they have held parties for the underprivileged children in town. The pledges of the four sororities donated their time to help solicit money for the Heart Fund and was sponsored by Panhellenic which governs all the sororities as a whole. On campus each group donated money for the Foreign Student Fund for the following year.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN

A little bit independent is the theme of a number of girls here on the C.C. campus. Having fun participating in sports, giving dances and just informal get-togethers make this group an active one. The hayrack ride and house suppers were events these girls will remember.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

With cries of "Mule Train" the Kappas marched down Tejon this year to win first place with their Homecoming float. To add to the glory of the yearly celebration President Gill crowned the little redhead, Sue Pfeiffer, as our queen. The Kappas hard studying also paid off, as they received the highest grade average for the first semester.

SIGMA CHI

The Sigma Chi fraternity was founded June 28, 1855 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. The local chapter, Beta Gamma was the second National fraternity to be established at Colorado College in 1905. Sigma Chi began the school year with their annual "watermelon bust" which was a big success. The Sigs won first prize on their float and second prize for their house decorations during Homecoming this year. Sigma Chi was quite active in all intramural sports. At the end of the first semester, the Sigs initiated twelve men into their brotherhood.

STUDENT OPINION POLLS

The Nugget this year has decided that it is time that the students be palled. The staff feels that we should be aware af the interests af the students and relate to them the interests af the their fellow students. This is an age of polls—everyone is being asked questions all the way from things of national interest down to the smallest personal habits. There seems to be a little of the Kinsey-Gallup complex in all af us that makes us want to knaw what our neighbors are doing and thinking. Unfartunately, we are unable ta meet and talk with each member of the callege community. Hence cames the great popularity of the pall.

Though we claim na miracles, we da believe that we are able to present a fairly accurate cross section of student opinian. To attain as complete a sample af students as passible, we circulated 600 palls thraughaut the faur classes on two different occasions at the beginning af the regularly held chapel service on Tuesday marnings.

Amang the questions we asked were a number directed at each phase of college life; athletics, politics, draft situation, imbibing habits, lave life, academics, and other catch-all types of questions. With a snicker of approval we now present the results.

What class are you a member of?

The first pertinent information deemed necessary was to find out what percent of the students were male and female, their class in school, and the geographic location in which they lived. We may easily see the results by those charts. Of those polled a large 40.8 percent were Freshmen while the Juniors and Seniors number far less—combined only constituting 28.2 percent or about 12 percent less than the Freshman class itself. The reason probably for this is that there is a far greater number of students in the Freshman Class.

Where do you live?

Noting our area distribution we find that our largest number of students come from Colorado which is not unusual. However, we find that those from the Mid-West come very close to equaling the number from Colorado with 26.3 percent. It is probably safe to say that a great number of these students come from the Chicago area. Continuing on, we find that the Southwest is represented by a large 23 percent with the great majority coming from lower California and primarily the Los Angeles area. The rest of the students comprise a relatively smaller number from the other areas of the country totaling 23.5 percent. This poll is indicative of a widely represented student body coming from Maine to California.

What is your sex?

Here at CC we find by our enrollment figures that the number of men enrolled exceeds the number of coeds by 41—the representative figures being 440 men and 399 women. In our poll we find that more women are represented—totaling 57.8 percent. Our best opinion is that of those sampled a greater number of women were on hand.

What is your draft situation?

Now that we have completed the preliminaries, let us move into the questions themselves. In the present day and age we find that each and everyone of the men are faced with the problem of military service. With the Korean war over we find that nerves are not as touchy as they were when the subject of the draft is brought up. But we do find that most are still concerned about the whole situation. With an ROTC unit at CC we find that 47.1% are members of this while 25.8% are in the 51st percentile. The one very interesting result is that 24.1% claim to have a deal—most interesting! But on the whole about half of the men are in ROTC and the rest seem to be scraping along somehow.

How much do you study?

Men

Women

Moving on our next poll relative values are interesting to note. We find that the average CC female tends to study more than the average male. Those that fall into a 10 to 30 hours a week category total 72.2% of the coeds and only 52.7% of the men while in the lesser categories we find 34.3% of the men while only 22.3% of the girls are represented here. One startling fact that we note is the claim of 13% of the men who study over 30 hours a week as compared to a total of 5.5% of the girls.

How often do you date?

Men

Dating for most af the C.C. campus is no problem; and all in all we find that the relative amounts af dating and frequency between the two sexes is quite equal, except in the category of rare daters (never and monthly) where we find that the men seem to dominate here with 37.6% as campared to the coeds with 26.2%. Therefare, it is safe to assume that the girls actually do have an adequate amount of dates—contrary to the opinion of some peaple on campus.

MEN-11.6%
FEMALE-9.7%

Women

We alsa find caeds are definitely here to stay. 70.8% of the men prefer to date college women while only 13.8% choose working girls. 4.3% favared thase still in high schaal and 7.2% favored wamen in the military. The girls whaleheartedly preferred college men at a rate af 78.6%. There was the figure af 9.7% and 9.4% wha preferred warking men and soldiers respectively. The girls apparently dan't care far high schaal boys indicating this by a 2.3% shawing.

What do you look for in the opposite sex?

Men

Being faatlaase and fancy-free is still the mast papular status with the student. Thus we ask what they are searching for. The average student af both sexes does not favar just any ane thing. We find that 59.5% af the men and 54.1% of the wamen want a cambination of many things. Secand on the man's list cames chassis with 20.9% favaring this. These two camprise abaut 80% of the men's interest. The coeds on the other hand are definitely in favar af persanality. This is secand anly ta a cambination of all other categaries with a 25.7%.

How often do you drink?

When asked how much Mr. ar Miss CC indulges in alcohal, the results praved interesting. In such a pall some tend ta baast about such habits. Hawever, the average student seems to have given a fairly accurate appraximatian. As is the case with mast calleges, we find that Mr. C.C. drinks more often than his caunterpart. Almost one-fifth af the college never touches the stuff while a slightly tipsy 6.6% professes to drink daily. This seems ta indicate that the A club and ather dispensers af good cheer wauld possibly have picked a better college with which ta do business. We hear na camplaints fram these quarters, hawever. We find that the average CC persanality imbibes a little less often than ance a week.

What are your political leanings?

Although CC has na palitical clubs and very little political activity, the average student seems to maintain same interest in palitical parties. He has many definite apinions and 80% af the students prefer ta fallaw definite political lines. Of those wha profess a political party we find that the Republican strength outnumbers Demacratic strength about 6-2 ar mare. On our campus we find only 14.8% of the students prefer independent political thaught.

In what field are you most interested?

A significant indicatian was braught forth in cannection with fields af study. If we investigate the number of students majoring in the Fine Arts, we find that the number is not nearly as large as the number of students wha indicated interest in that field. Perhaps students feel that the general field of Fine Arts wauld nat be practical enaugh as a life time career, but do have a strang interest in such cultural aspects as music, art, etc. The fact remains that Fine Arts ranked 5.9% over any other.

The great majority af the students seem to be well adapted ta CC life using a matta af everything in moderatian as a general guide whether it be the business af cuddling, coaing, cacktailing ar Colburning.

FRESHMAN WEEK

Monday, September 7, 1953, was the beginning of college life for the Freshmen students. After the Freshmen tests, many meetings, and the social functions of college life, we began to know one another.

We then realized that our first week here at C.C. was only a sample of the happy life ahead of us . . . The foundation of which we will receive here at Colorado College.

SLOCUM HALL

Slocum Hall, the new men's dorm, will be ready for occupancy on September 1, 1954. The dorm was named in honor of Dr. William Frederick Slocum, president of the college from 1888-1917. Dr. Slocum helped to establish Colorado College as one of the leading Liberal Arts Schools. The dorm will be housed by out-of-town freshman men and will accommodate 160. The dorm provides excellent facilities for recreation on the sun deck, patio, lounge and recreation room. The dedication of the dorm will take place at commencement in June.

Tiger-Nugget

This is the first all-school dance of the year. Its highlight is the crowning of Miss C.C. For 1953 she is Martha Kirtley and her attendants are Gail Lund, Sue Flenniken, Les Sherman and Barb Cannon. Sponsors of this gala event are the Tiger and the Nugget.

3. First Place—Sigma Chi "Meat Grinder"
4. Second Place—Phi Delt "Tavern"

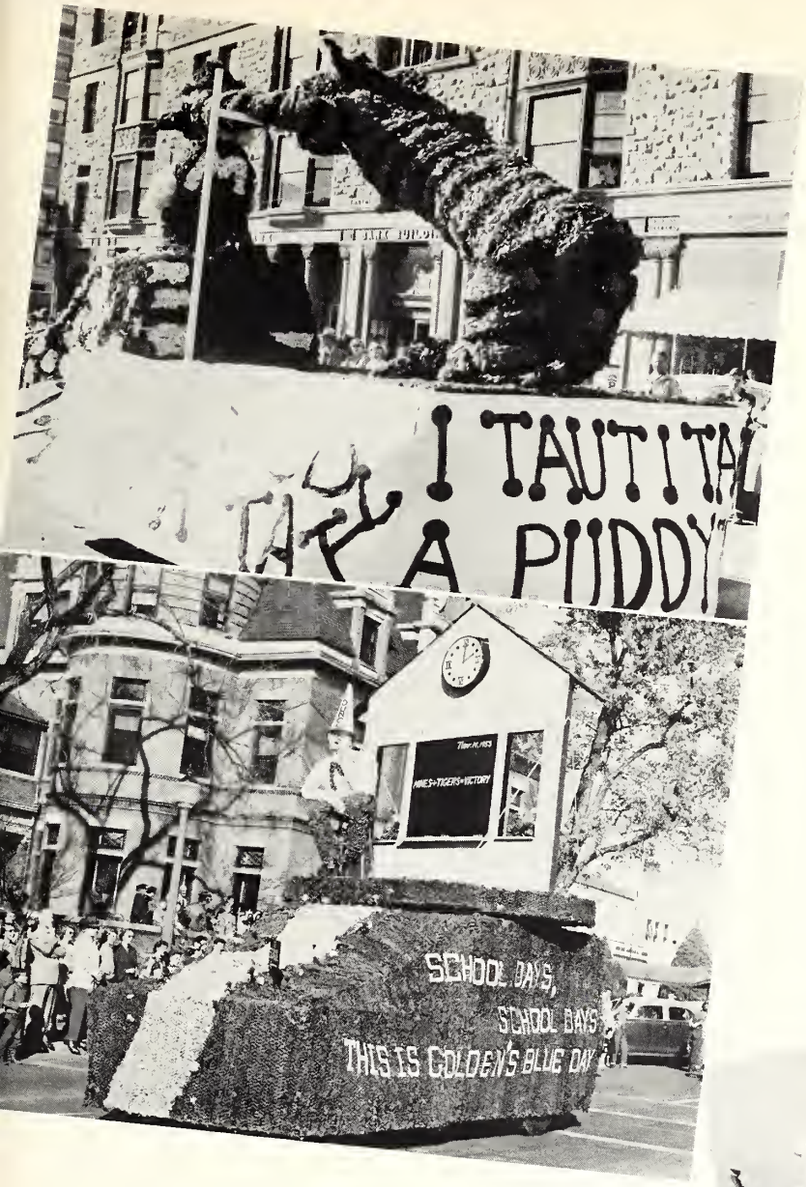

Originality plus was demonstrated by the Phi Delts, as they were judged first place for their house decorations with a theme of "Grind that Miner." The Sigs took second with their mountain landslide. Following the judging the Tigers assembled in Cossitt Bowl anticipating and wondering, "Who'll be queen?" President Gill ended all suspense by crowning the redhead, Sue Pfeiffer, and with a large cheer from the crowd, the bonfire roared and the snake line proceeded to block traffic all the way down town. Thus ended the first day of Homecoming.

Second Day

Homecoming Parade

The streets were blocked off and the crowds began to gather on the corners early Saturday morning for one of the best Homecoming parades CC has ever seen. Tiger Club in their yellow uniforms and the freshmen in their bows and dinks led the parade up one street and down the next. There was stiff competition in both float divisions with Sigma Chi Meat Grinders winning first in the fraternity division and the Phi Delts Tiger Tavern placing second. The Betas won honorable mention with their float built to theme of "Crying in the Chapel." In the sorority division the Kappa "Mule Train" placed first and the Gamma Phi "Dazzle 'Em With Stardust" placed second. The Theta revolving school house won honorable mention.

Variety

The lights dim, the curtain call, and another variety show of CC talent played to a capacity crowd this year. The acts ranged from serious to humorous and classical music to jazz with a great variety that led to a very successful show.

A satirical melodrama, "Life of a CC Co-ed" was written and performed by the Independent Women and was one of the cleverest acts in the show. Of course, the faculty act, "Truth, Knowledge and the Pursuit," brought down the house with their different phases of life on the CC campus.

Show

Variety

"And the 20's Roared" with the Kappas and DGs portraying the well remembered and loved flapper era and the Phi Gams doing a perfect interpretation of "St. George and the Dragnet" brought together past and present. "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun" by the Thetas; "South Pacific," by the Phi Delts; and "Guy and Dolls" by the Betas were very well done and gave the final touch and rang down the curtain to the Tigers' annual show.

Christmas over—back to work and before we even get a breathing spell, final exams are on us. For some it is sheer panic, for others nothing more than a necessary evil. It is that building a day to the frame principle. He who has done his studying regularly right straight through is ready. He goes into finals with a sound foundation while other elements are lost. # FEDERAL INSPECTION

Colorado College's ROTC unit underwent its second federal inspection Wednesday, May 5. Colonel Robert B. Connor, PMST of the University of Minnesota, and Major Rodney Weibel, University of Nebraska, were the inspecting officers. ROTC cadets were inspected by the party on Wednesday at Stewart Field and then reviewed at Washburn Field. This year's inspection review included the ROTC band. Classroom work, training equipment and facilities were checked also by the officers.

PRESIDENT'S DAY

President William H. Gill was honored by Colorado College's ROTC unit on Thursday, May 20, at Washburn Field at 10 o'clock with a military review and ceremony. During the ceremony President Gill presented the President's Streamer to be flown from the company guidon to the best drilled company. He also presented individual awards to members of the ROTC rifle team. Upon completion of the awards ceremony, President Gill reviewed the unit. Miss Jean Boncutter, 1954 Honorary Cadet Colonel elect, took position on the reviewing stand.

NIADS

In the spring of 1952 a group of Colorado College girls put on a swimming show at the Broadmoor pool based on Indian legends. During the following year these girls added to their work and became a full-fledged campus organization called the Niads.

A brilliantly colored night spectacle was presented May 7 by the Colorado College Niads in the 1954 Spring Pageant. Under the lights in the famous Broadmoor pool fifteen girls swam a water ballet of intricate color patterns.

THE SENIOR PROM

May 8, 1954, was one of the loveliest nights of the year for Colorado College students who atended the senior prom at the Alamo Hotel. The El Mirador orchestra provided the music for this all-school, semi-formal "Diploma Ball." The honored guests of this dance were the graduating seniors.

The highlight of the "Diploma Ball" was when Dr. Van B. Shaw, the senior class sponsor, presented a plaque to the Senior Woman Most Likely to Succeed, and another plaque to the Senior Man Most Likely to Succeed. The candidates for these awards were chosen by the sororities and fraternities on campus. The Phi Gams chose Terry Burk; Phi Delts, Ed MacGuire; Sigma Chi, Dave Becker; Kappa Sigs, Roger Bildstein; and the Betas, Frank Florey; the Thetas selected Gail Lund; Kappa, B. J. Weiskopf; Gamma Phis, Margie Epler, and Delta Gammas, Marion Johnson.

Religious Emphasis Week

This year a Religious Emphasis Week was held on campus. The purpose was to stir interest and feeling towards religious matters. Almost every faith was represented in this four-day program. It was a new experiment and the results were gratifying.

MOUNTAIN DAY

Mountain Day is the time when students and faculty alike sneak off to the mountains for a day of eating, playing games, swimming, and general socializing. This year the festival was held in Manitou Park behind Pikes Peak.

The festivities began at 10:00 a.m. on the day of the sneak. Buses left at 9:00 a.m. from Cutler Hall for those students who didn't have rides. Posters were up at 7:30 a.m. in all girls' dorms, fraternity houses, and class buildings to announce the day.

The purpose of this "All School Sneak" was to promote school spirit between the faculty, administration, and students, and better the relationship. In order to obtain such a goal, it was very important for all members of the CC Family to participate in the activities. It was the desire of the college and the committee for everyone to have a good time.

Phi Beta Kappa

Colorado College's chapter of Phi Beta named 14 seniors and two juniors to membership in the select honorary scholastic fraternity.

The two juniors, who were selected on the basis of academic excellence in three years of college work, are Marion Shaw and Marcia Manning. Miss Shaw is majoring in physics, and Miss Manning is majoring in French and German.

Five of the seniors elected are from Colorado Springs. They are Pamela Adams (English), Arthur Erickson (physics), Paul V. Evans (political science), Margaret Godfrey (German and chemistry), and Vija Spalvins (zoology).

The other seniors, who were elected as a result of academic excellence during their entire college careers, are Florence Bye Brown (geology and physics), Barbara Ann Hogan (psychology), Sally LeRoi (English), Gail Lund (English), Pava Paulich (art), Anne Pinkney (economics), Georgiana Shaw (music), Kathleen Smith (French and German), and Barbara Trotter Weiskopf (sociology).

The 16 new initiates joined with the Colorado College chapter and local members of Phi Beta Kappa in a gala initiation banquet April 20 at the Broadmoor Hotel.

Outstanding Seniors

Elected at the Senior Prom as the two outstanding seniors this year were Ed MacGuire and Gail Lund. They were elected through ballots cast by those who attended the dance.

Ed MacGuire is one of a family of six boys. He came to CC as a sophomore and has been active in many campus activities while here. Among other things, he has been social chairman of the Phi Delta Theta, a writer on THE TIGER staff, and an active member of the Newman Club. This year Ed was honored by being crowned Golddiggers' King at the annual Golddiggers' Ball.

Gail Lund has been a CC student for four years, and has held a scholarship during that time. A member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Gail has distinguished herself and has become well known through her many activities on the campus. This year she is president of QA, and has been on the Honor Council for two years. During her junior year she was social chairman of the A.W.S. Board, a class commissioner and was president of Howbert House.

Baseball

CC pushed a run across the plate in the eighth inning to snatch at 6-5 diamond victory from Colorado Mines April 10 at Stewart Field and gain an even split from the Miners who took the first game 13-8 at Golden.

First sacker Bill McCrae was the big gun in the Tiger attack with two hits in five trips to the plate and four runs driven in. Wally Parus and Tom Reichert sent CC in front to stay.

Eldon Helms went the distance for CC, scattering ten blows.

THE 1954 SCHEDULE

April 9—Colo. Mines at Golden.
April 10—Colo. Mines at Colorado Springs.
April 14—Regis College at Colorado Springs.
April 17—Regis College at Denver.
April 23 — Colorado State at Colorado Springs.
April 24 — Colorado State at Colorado Springs.
April 30—Western State at Gunnison.
May 1—Western State at Gunnison.
May 7—Colo. Mines at Golden.
May 8—Colo. Mines at Colorado Springs.
May 14—Colo. State at Greeley.
May 15—Colo. State at Greeley.

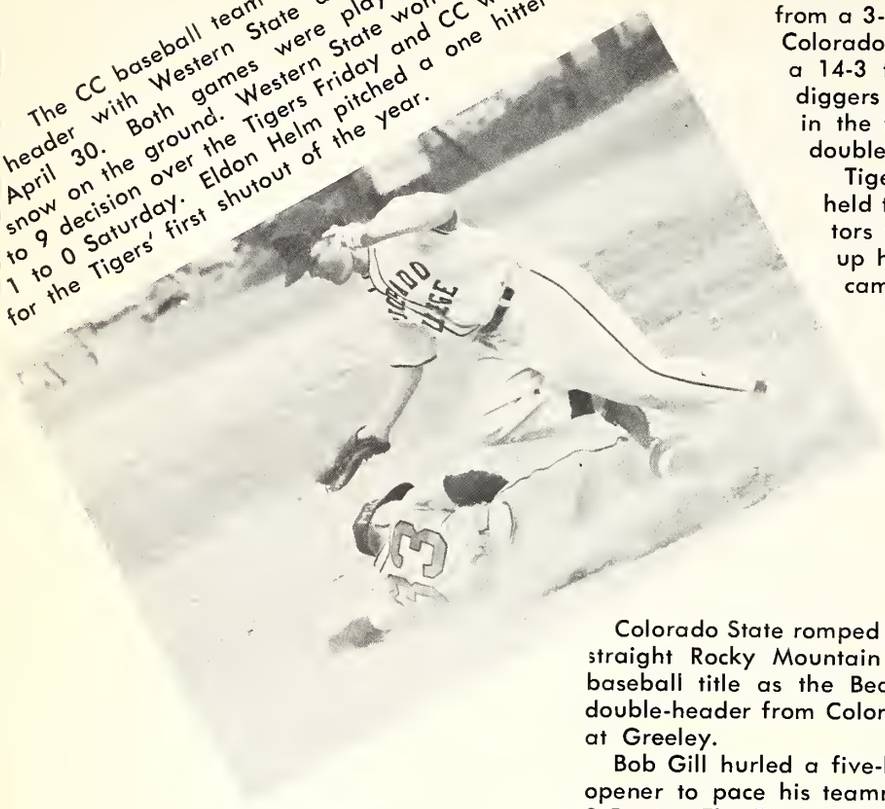

Colorado State pitchers Bob Gill and George Sage combined to hurl the Bears to a pair of baseball triumphs over Colorado College by identical 17-1 scores at Stewart Field. In the opener, Gill limited the Tiger batsmen to seven safeties while his teammates were hammering lefty Tom Dunton for 17 runs on 14 hits, nine walks and three errors. The Bears scored in almost every inning.

George Sage set the Tigers down in the second game with five hits as the visitors battered three Colorado College hurlers for their second straight 17-1 victory.

The CC baseball team split a double header with Western State at Gunnison April 30. Both games were played with snow on the ground. Western State won a 10 to 9 decision over the Tigers Friday and CC won 1 to 0 Saturday. Eldon Helm pitched a one hitter for the Tigers' first shutout of the year.

Colorado College bounced back from a 3-1 defeat at the hands of Colorado Mines to hammer out a 14-3 triumph over the Ore-diggers and gain an even split in the two schools' weekend doubleheader.

Tiger flinger Eldon Helm held the hard hitting visitors to nine hits to pick up his third win of the campaign.

Colorado State romped to their fifth straight Rocky Mountain Conference baseball title as the Bears swept a double-header from Colorado College at Greeley.

Bob Gill hurled a five-hitter in the opener to pace his teammates to an 8-5 win. The Tigers were even more helpless in the nightcap in losing 15-1.

Golf

North Texas State walked off with the eighth annual Colorado College Invitational golf meet, held at Broadmoor links this year. Colorado College's efforts placed them fifth in the meet of some of the top collegiate teams in the area.

Ken Simon helped the Tigers with a 224, posted on rounds of 76, 73, and 75. CC's fifth place was the highest rank they had attained in the tournament's eight-year history, and had Doug Silverburg entered, they might have gone higher. Silverburg missed the tourney to compete in the British amateur which was played in Scotland.

Colorado College's team scores were:
Simon: 76-73-75—224.
Dick Pennington: 84-78-75—237.
Dick Pearson: 78-76-87—241.
Phil Hilton: 89-86-90—265.
Bob Kroehnke: 94-88-87—269.
Jim Ward: 89-91-91—271.
Team total: 967.

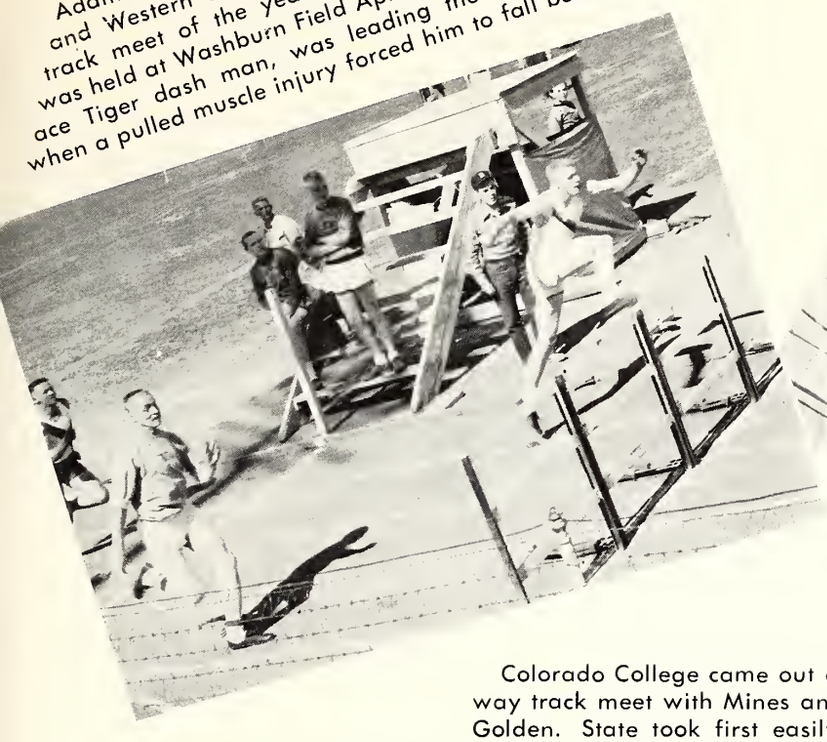

The low four scores were compiled to make the team score.

Track

A pulled leg muscle may have given Adams State the edge for second place and Western State first honors in the first track meet of the year. The triangular meet was held at Washburn Field April 16. Bill Howell, ace Tiger dash man, was leading the mile relay when a pulled muscle injury forced him to fall behind Colorado College came out on the losing end of a three-way track meet with Mines and Colorado State May 14, at Golden. State took first easily with 78 5/6 points, Mines finished second with 48 1/6 points, and CC was third with 35.

The Tigers could win only two firsts as Bill Howell won the 100 yard dash and Bill Riley took first in the javelin. Fred Ficek was high point man for CC with 8 points accumulated with a second in the 100 yard dash, a second in the broad jump, and a third in the 220 yard dash. Other second place winners for the Tigers were Doug Little in the 880 and Rule Olson in the high hurdles.

Intramurals

Intramural Track Meet

The Intramural trophy for the past year again returned to the Phi Gamma Delta house for another year. The Phi Gams were always in front of total point standings, but a very close race was staged by the Phi Delts and the Independents for second place.

On May 17, the Phis and Indes met to decide the softball championship and second place in total point standings. The Independents emerged with a 9-6 victory, taking second place in Intramurals for the year, leaving third spot for the Phi Delts.

Sonny Price Award

Dick Clothier, president of ASCC, presents Sue Pfeiffer and Wally Prebis the Sonny Price award.

Sue Pfeiffer and Wally Prebis were presented with the Sonny Price award as the students who had participated in more activities and services than any other students for 1953-54. This award was established by the Student Council in 1949 as an honor to the outstanding leader in the senior class, but it was decided this year to present the award to a student or students who would be returning next year and make it in the form of a scholarship.

It was planned that the award would take the form of a full tuition scholarship for one student; however, the Student Council was unable to choose between Sue Pfeiffer and Wally Prebis and it was decided to award the scholarship jointly to the two students.

Publications Awards

Annually, the CC publications give two student awards for outstanding contributions to CC publications. One award, the CC Publication award, is given to an underclassman for work done in his first two years. John Hirst won this title this year for his work on THE NUGGET staff. Sue Pfeiffer won the E. K. Gaylord award for outstanding work done by an upperclassman. Sue contributed greatly toward the furtherance of THE TIGER.

Lee Sage, chairman of the Publications Board, presents John Hirst the CC Publications award.

Dedication of Slocum Hall

C.C. on June 4 dedicated the new $670,000 men's dormitory to former president of the college, William Frederick Slocum, under whose administration nine permanent buildings were erected on the campus.

The building, which will house 160 men next September, as well as providing additional classroom space, was opened after the dedication ceremonies to public inspection.

President Gill presided over the dedication of the building to Slocum, who was president from 1888 to 1917.

Dr. Charlie Hershey, dean emeritus of CC, traced the works of Reverend Slocum during his 29-year period as president.

Slocum secured over a million and a half dollars in endowment and increased the student body from about 30 to 600.

The dedication was held in connection with commencement activities at the college.

Good News

The versatility of student talent at Colorado College was shown May 4, when the musical comedy, "Good News," opened in Perkins Hall. The production, staged by the Music, Dance, and Drama Departments of Colorado College, was the first of its kind to be presented in many years. "Good News," a light comedy with a college background, centers around a football hero, Tom Marlow, who will be unable to play in the big game if he does not pass an astronomy examination.

The leading roles are brilliantly portrayed by Bob Kicklighter and Judy Clave. Judy's singing of "Just Imagine," supported by Lynn Wigley and Eleanor Graves, is doubtless the show's best. Bill Peters, playing the part of a frustrated football player, and Judy Avery as Babe, kept the house in stitches throughout the performance with their antics and songs. Elaine Lundstrom did a fine job in her supporting role.

Some of the songs worthy of mention included "Happy Days" by Bob Kicklighter and John Parker, and Parker teaming with Eleanor Graves to sing "On the Campus." "Varsity Drag" is well done by Walt Thorndike, John Parker, Elaine Lundstrum and Eleanor Graves. Bill Fritz did a fine job with his portrayal of Professor Kenyon, and Bill Phelps was great as Beef, a football player. Jim Wier as Kearney, a pessimistic football trainer, gives an outstanding performance along with Ed Nixon as Coach Johnson.

Honors are in order for the dancers: Barb Jorgans, Virginia Halloway, Shirley Menge, Doralee Howell, Mary Louise Emmert, Kathy Hitch and Liz Maier, and the directors, Richard Moorhead, Woodson Tyree, Earl Juhas, Bill Fritz. Special credit is also due Bonny McCombs, Randy Lee, Dow Pixley, and Larry Boyce, who played in the pit orchestra.

The Tales of Hoffman

Twenty-five members of the Colorado Springs Symphony Orchestra volunteered their services to accompany "The Tales of Hoffman" under the baton of Louis Huber on the opera program held on March 9 and 10 in Perkins Hall. Frances Pond and Carlton Gamer were the pianists.

Molly Lynn's CC Dance Group appeared in the "dream pantomime scene" of "Hansel and Gretel"; "angels" in the ballet were Laurie Archer, Lowie Sharpe,, Alice Glynn, Barbara Jorgans, Jane Muir, Ann Jakeman, Elaine Mitus, Cal Fisk, Daryth Erickson, Jill Morton, and Marjo Hess. Singing in the chorus are Marilynn Clark, Suzanne Hendricks, Marty Stinson, Barbara McAllister and Pat Freeland.
